Palette*: I fill my palette with paint (larger than a canary defecation) and allow to dry completely before departure. Place in a plastic bag before packing into suitcase. I use the Quiller travel palette. I only carry a few tubes of color that I use a lot, like Antwerp Blue, Winsor Yellow, Quinacridone Burnt Orange, Permanent Magenta and Cobalt Blue.

Paper*: I have chosen Arches 140# cold press in the quarter sheet (11"x15") size for my paintings. To carry the paper, I made a portfolio*. I bring enough paper to allow a sheet for each day of painting and then I also cut some paper into a long half-sheet (11" x 30") and fold it so I have quarter sheet size paper. If I want to, I can unfold this paper and do a long image (panoramic). I have these portfolios for sale for $6.50 +shipping. Your local frameshop can make these, too.

Small cheap oriental round brush

Miscellaneous:

Screw top drinking bottle (use to drink and to paint)
Salt in a film canister
Small spray bottle (fine mister)*
HB Pencil and eraser (I will furnish an eraser)
Kleenex or toweling
Sepia brown pen* (I will furnish this pen)
Mascoïd* and soap in a plastic Ziplock bag
4 bulldog clips*
Small umbrella
Lightweight bag or a backpack*

I found a great backpack through Dick Blick that holds a quarter sheet size paper and all my art supplies. This little bag holds your water bottle and your cell phone outside the bag. It is called the Studio Pak art backpack, 15"x12"x9". The item number is 15702-2050. The cost is $23.98. You can go on-line or call 1-800-828-4548. When you carry everything in a backpack, the weight is distributed equally and your hands are free to photograph.

I now carry a lightweight chair for sitting while painting. This is an essential piece of equipment for on location. GCI Outdoor has a great chair that folds up to a small size that is very sturdy, only weighs 26 ounces and is priced very reasonably. It is called the GCI Outdoor Pack Seat and sells for $24.99. 800-956-SEAT (7328) or go here: <http://www.gcioutdoor.com/script/cart.asp?CatProdID=17>
